COMMERCIAL LITIGATION AND ARBITRATION

Profile

The Curtis Commercial Litigation and Arbitration group represents domestic and international clients in state and federal courts throughout the United States and in arbitral tribunals in venues throughout the world. Our clients range in size from Fortune 500 companies to start-ups, and operate in every major business sector, including accounting, banking and other financial services, energy, commodities, manufacturing and distribution, transportation, technology, pharmaceuticals, life sciences, telecommunications, tourism and real estate.

The firm represents clients on all manner of commercial litigation and arbitration in a broad range of subject matters, including:

- Breach of contract
- Fraud
- Antitrust
- Business torts
- Defamation
- Intellectual property

The firm also has particular expertise in the area of cross-border disputes, frequently representing domestic and international clients in arbitrations under International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID), American Arbitration Association (AAA) and London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA) rules, as well as ad hoc commercial arbitrations. In addition, attorneys within the group have extensive experience representing brokerage houses and investment firms in industry-related arbitrations under Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) (formerly National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD)) and New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) rules involving a variety of matters.
