Malcolm J.G. Abaza is an associate in the Corporate group. He advises on a broad range of international corporate, commercial and financial matters, as well as local matters subject to Oman law.

Mr. Abaza represents international companies, both those who are looking to do business in Oman and those who already have a presence in the Sultanate; and local Omani businesses.

Mr. Abaza speaks fluent Arabic and has extensive experience working with written Arabic in a legal context.

Before joining Curtis, Mr. Abaza worked in the London and Abu Dhabi offices of two international law firms, and as regional counsel for a US multinational's Middle Eastern business.
